Name Committee To Investigate Parking Problem

A parking committee to investigate and make a thorough report on what can be done to provide sufficient off-street parking in the downtown district of Upland was appointed today by William Gilliland, president of the Upland chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Sam Rowe was named chairman of the committee with Paul Hottel and I. T. McFadden, James Goodban and P. H. McQuillen as members.

TYPE OF OWNER —

The task of the committee will be three-fold. It must determine what property is available or will be available in the near future for parking purposes, and how much it will cost to acquire it and make it adaptable for parking use.

The third question which must be decided by the newly-appointed committee evoked considerable discussion at the meeting of property owners and merchants held with the planning commission last Thursday. It is whether parking lot or lots should be promoted or owned by a private party, a parking association made up of merchants and property owners or by the city.

COMPROMISE

Several views were expressed at the last meeting, with a possible compromise being offered. It is that an association might organize and get the parking lots started and then turn them over to the city for maintenance and operation. However, no action will be taken either way until the committee makes its report to another meeting of merchants and property owners sometime the latter part of this month.

The impetus to do something about the parking problem had its beginning both with the chamber of commerce and at several meetings of the planning commission. It was agreed that if more business is to be brought into the community or if present business is to be kept here adequate off-street parking facilities have to be provided.

Pending the establishment of off-street parking merchants have been parking their own cars and those of their employees in the rear of their buildings in order to allow more parking space for their customers.

Voice of Upland

If you were the inquiring reporter what question would you ask?

"Why they push veterans around from one agency to another would be my question. I've got a son-in-law that's being sent to a dozen places and all he's trying to do is get into a trade school."—A. B. Chandler, 1262 Myrtle drive.

"How has the General Electric strike affected local business?" It must be felt here in Upland somehow." Tweed Stone, 329 East Ninth street.

"I'd ask them whether we should make a loan to Britain or not. I don't think we should until we get our home front straightened out first. Veterans are coming back every day and they can't find a home. Let's do something about it."—Robert Reed, 429 North First avenue.

"Is decentralization of business in Upland of paramount importance? I'm not so sure that centralization is the answer in a small town. I'd like to know what others think."—Alex Fader, 305 North Second avenue.

"What their opinion is on improving the housing situation? It might start them thinking about it and give the legislature something to think about."—J. E. Mohler, North Vineyard avenue, Cucamonga.

"Shall we make loans to all the other countries as long as it looks like we'll be making one to Britain? If it means more business for this country, then I'm in favor of making these loans."—Spencer Smith, 153 East Ninth street.

"The most frequently discussed subject in the barber shop is fishing. But that's no question. That's a good sport. Why don't you do it?"—Frank "Speedy" Jones, one of the town's barbers.

"A good question to ask—at least many people would like to know the answer is this—when is the west side of Euclid avenue going to be repaved?"—Mrs. Forbes B. Mellon.

Guest Editorials Begin In The News Today

"Guest Editorials" will appear as a regular feature in The Upland News beginning today.

Residents in the Upland district will express their views as they become "editor" of an allotted space on page two of The News.

No restrictions are placed on the subjects, contributors being given an opportunity to discuss anything and everything that concerns them and their community. This feature, first introduced in The News several years ago, is being resumed.

First "Guest Editorial" writer is Frederic W. Dundas, a citrus grower, a member of the Chaffey board of education and active civic leader.

His editorial discussion concerns a local, timely subject and will be of interest to all readers of The News.

Sponsored by the Upland Coordinating council, with the cooperation of the Ontario Coordinating council and other civic groups, the lectures are intended to provide parents with information about juvenile delinquency and how to cope with it in the growing child.

Judge Blake before his elevation to his present position was for years juvenile judge of the Los Angeles superior court. He has had wide experience in dealing with children and all of their problems. His subject will be announced later.

Three more lectures are scheduled to follow Judge Blake's address. "Youth from the Inter-Racial Standpoint" will be discussed by Paul Coronel, Spanish teacher at Chaffey High school, as the second in the series. The third will be concerned with "Youth From the Educational Standpoint" and the fourth a round table discussion of the three previous lectures.

Uplanders Will Build Home For Them

This is a family picture of Pvt. Raymond Davis, his wife and three children taken shortly before Pvt. Davis went overseas to fight for his country. He has returned now permanently disabled and is faced with the prospect of spending the rest of his life in a wheel chair. Aware of all that Pvt. Davis has done, generous Uplanders have established a fund which will be used to build a home for him and his family. You can help, too, by taking your contributions to any one of the two local banks.

Mrs. Ray Davis, Wife of Disabled Local Veteran, Bravely Faces Future

Mrs. Raymond J. Davis is a brave little woman but the shock of her husband's permanent disability has left its mark on her.

Sitting there in the living room of her parent's home, 1258 East Ninth street, she related the story of receiving the news of her husband's wound last March.

"I had been worried about him from the day he left for overseas," she said softly, trying hard to control the deep hurt inside of her. "But when the telegram came, saying he was seriously wounded, well, you can see for yourself."

WILL DO EVERYTHING

The results were there for anyone to see. The nervous shock had brought back to life an old skin disease and her face and arms were covered with it. But she was trying to smile, making the best of a distressing situation.

"We're going to have to make an adjustment, and I know, and I'm going to do everything I can to make that adjustment as easy as possible on Ray," she went on.

Jimmy, the oldest of the three children, came banging through the kitchen door. Then he saw that his mother had company and he went out again. She looked at the door where her son had just gone through and stared silently ahead of her.

"Of course, we're grateful and deeply moved for what the people of Upland are trying to do for us. You can see how terribly crowded we are in here, with just one bedroom," she said.

She had reference to the establishment of a fund by generous Uplanders to build a home for them. A committee was appointed last Tuesday to raise the money for the project. C. B. Boothe has already donated the lot on which the house will be built.

"But I don't know how Ray is going to take it," she added a little hesitantly.

It wasn't that he wouldn't appreciate the gratitude of the people among whom he has lived for many years, she explained quickly, but she was afraid that he might consider it charity.

"You know Ray has always prided himself on doing things on his own," she said, her voice breaking a little. "That's why I don't know, though I know we do need a home very desperately."

CHAFFEY GRAD

Ray had been overseas only a month when he received the wound which doctors say will paralyze both of his legs for life. A member of the replacement group of Patton's Third Army, he was in a house in Germany with some of the buddies when a shell exploded on top of the house. Everyone except Ray was killed instantly but a piece of shrapnel lodged into his spine, severing a cord and making his legs useless for life.

Before the war Ray and his wife, the former Elouise Triplet, attended Upland Junior High school and graduated from Chaffey High school. They were married five years ago and have three children, Jimmy, 4; Roger, 3, and Catherine, 1½. Ray is the son of Frank Davis and Elouise, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Triplet.

SOME HOPE

A gleam of hope shone from her eyes suddenly as she remembered what Ray had told her on his last visit home from the Birmingham General Hospital at Van Nuys, where he is still receiving treatment. They had told him that he might be able to get some braces which, with the aid of crutches, might make it possible for him to walk some day.

"He wants to stay at the hospital until he gets them," she said, "so he won't have to stay in a wheel chair all the time."

Push Drive for Ray Davis Fund

A total of $360 has been collected for the Raymond Davis Building Fund thus far, Frank Nichols, banker and trustee of the committee announced today.

Started by a group of generous Uplanders to build a home for Pvt. Raymond Davis, the only completely disabled war veteran in the West End, and his family of three children, the drive to raise the money has now began to gain momentum.

An appeal has been issued to everyone in the community to contribute as much as they can towards the fund so that a home can be built for the Davis family. A lot on Fifth avenue has been donated by C. B. Booth for the house to be built on.

In addition to cash contributions, material and labor donations are also being solicited by the committee which was formed Tuesday. No chairman has been named as yet but it is believed that Mr. Nichols will probaly be elected.

Other committee members include Warren Wilkin, representing the building industry ;Glenn Atwood, Lions club; James Goodban, American Legion and Marion F. Grothe, Rotary club. Richard Derby, Upland building inspector who with Mr. Boothe was the originator of the whole idea, is an ex-officio member of the committee.

Gerald Cline Sells Doughnut Shop

Gerald E. Cline has sold "Jerry's Doughnut and Malt Shop" to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Gullic, who assumed charge of the new business today. The recently established shop is at 228 North Second avenue.

Mr. Cline, with the assistance of his wife, opened the new shop late last fall and they have enjoyed a wide patronage.

The new owners are from Pomona.

George Weldon Buys Residence Here

George Weldon has purchased the residence at 305 South First avenue from Frank Judy. Mr. and Mrs. Judy and family will move soon to Redlands.

It is understood that George Weldon, retired member of the Chaffey college faculty, will not occupy the residence.

Honor Driver

A young boy is the Honor Driver for today.

Driving a Ford sedan with the license number 2 T 3670, he was seen going west on Ninth street by police from Third avenue. He was observed as he made a good boulevard stop at North Second avenue after giving the proper arm signals.

Then cautiously and with due regard for other people on the street, he proceeded carefully across Second. The observing officer promptly placed him on the Upland News Honor Roll for today.

Accomplishments of Local Red Cross Reviewed at Dinner

What the Upland chapter of the Red Cross accomplished during the war years was reviewed and the outstanding work of many local people was praised at the annual meeting of the group here Tuesday night.

It was the first meeting of its kind since before the war and in a comprehensive report, Miss Eunice Mitchell, executive secretary, summarized the vast activities carried on by the Red Cross organization here under the wartime leadership of Mrs. G. W. Eckerman, Mrs. Paul Adams and Mrs. Warren Wass.

WAR REPORT GIVEN

Climaxing the interesting meeting, held in the Upland Woman's club house, was an address by Dr. Rufus Oakey on the work of the Red Cross in training camps and in the combat zones. Dr. Oakey "was there" and he interestingly told of the fine service given in all phases of the war effort. He reviewed actual experiences where the Red Cross truly served the men in the far Pacific outposts.

The meeting gave a full picture of the Red Cross service at home and abroad and provided a fitting setting for Mrs. Edwin L. Wichstrom, the new president, to begin her term as leader in the first peacetime year.

MRS. FLOWERS HONORED

Special recognition was given Mrs. Harry Flowers, former production chairman, who gave at Voters must register by February 28 in order to be eligible to vote in the city election which will be held on April 9.

Registrations are now being accepted at the Upland chamber of commerce from 9 a. m. until 4 p. m. daily and from 9 a. m. to 12 p. m. on Saturdays.

Three councilmen and City Clerk Hazel Cassell will be up for re-election in April, if they choose to run again. Those on the council whose terms expire and who may be running for a four year term are:

Paul Hottel, Harry Wright and James Goodban. Mrs. Cassell will be up for a two-year term.

Those desiring to be candidates for any of the positions open must file their nomination papers not later than noon on February 28.

Unlike in the past, circulation of nomination papers for any candidate can only be done by a registered voter. In former years no such restriction has been placed.

Edwin Dean Returns To Teaching Job Here

Edwin Dean started teaching again at the Upland Junior High school yesterday after more than three years in the army.

Receiving his discharge a few weeks ago, Mr. Dean is back at his old job as athletic coach and teaching mathematics and general science.

He was with the army medical corps in the European theater during the war and was stationed in Germany prior to returning home.

Cold Wave Hits City

Low temperatures in Upland and throughout the Southland after more than two weeks of ideal spring weather has resulted in wide-spread orchard heating for the last three days.

The temperature started falling Tuesday night and by morning had gone down to 27 in Upland with readings of 29 and 30 common throughout the valley area. Minimum temperatures of 25 degrees were reported in the eastern valley sections and in Colton, Rialto, Bloomington and Fontana 27, 29 and 30 degree readings were reported.

Smudging was evident throughout the city in the mornings with a heavy smoke surrounding the downtown district and residential sections.

However, because of the short duration of the colder temperature, little damage to fruit was expected.

Variety of Building, Alterations Reported

Construction was started yesterday on an addition to the honey house, 1332 East Ninth street. U. S. Standlea is the owner.

The Upland Lemon Grovers' association, Fifth avenue and A street, is installing an underground storage tank with a capacity of 550 gallons.

Building permits have also been issued to Arthur Kirkhan for the construction of a garage.

The Antimite association is doing termite repair on the home of P. V. Taylor, 940 San Bernardino road and Fay S. Marr, of 862 Sycamore court, is building a garage at 748 Sycamore court.

Dwight Johnson, 320 South First avenue, is having termite repair work done on his home.

A building permit was issued to Winson E. Edgar, of 434 Beverly square, Ontario, to build a four room house with garage at 750 Highland court.

Oris F. Heinauer, 581 West Seventh street, underwent minor surgery Monday at San Antonio Community hospital.

Mrs. Francisco Miramontez, 161 Feron street, Cucamonga, entered San Antonio Community hospital Wednesday for treatment of leg injuries she suffered in a fall.

Will Be Presented to Legion Membership for Approval

Calling it one of the most beautiful and complete in the country, the building committee of the Upland post of the American Legion last night gave its stamp of approval to the revised plans for Veterans' Memorial.

Its acceptance, however, depends on the entire Legion membership to whom it will be presented at their next regular meeting.

Modern in every respect and employing the latest in architectural design, the Veterans' Memorial will include everything from bowling alleys to a stage and auditorium. Separate club rooms for the auxiliary and for the Legion are contemplated, with lots of storage space throughout the building. There's a large kitchen, an office and several additional rooms which may be used by Boy Scouts, Girls Scouts or other youth organizations.

COST HIGH

Although the cost of this huge undertaking will not be made known until it is approved or rejected by the Legionnaires, it was disclosed by the committee also night that it would be considerably more than had been contemplated. However, it will be complete in every respect and will provide a place not only for Legion and auxiliary meetings, but club rooms will also be available to all veterans at any time of the day.

The Memorial which will be located in East Side park will be the first public building of any kind to be erected there. While the city has had elaborate plans for the future developments of the park site, lack of funds has made this impossible. It is being hoped that with the placing of a beautiful Veteran's Memorial an impetus will be provided for more rapid growth and development at East Side park.

FOR ALL VETS

Public subscriptions will be called for to finance the Veterans' Memorial. Just as soon as Legion members approve the plans as presented by Roy Kazebier, the architect, last night to committee members, the Legion will begin an expansive campaign to raise the money as soon as possible so that work on the Memorial can be started at an early date. It is felt

Heights Firemen To Make Calls

Firemen of the San Antonio Volunteer Fire Department started today making personal calls on 70 residents of their community who have yet to respond to their appeal for money to build sufficient fire hydrants.

Although more than $900 has already been collected for this project, firemen feel that everyone should contribute their share Additional funds will be used for the purchase of equipment needed to give San Antonio Heghts complete fire protection.

At the start of the campaign two months ago letters were sent to all San Antonio Heights residents asking for their help in raising enough money to erect sufficient fire hydrants. Most of those to whom letters were sent have responded generously, A. J. Reeer, fire chief, declared, but there still remain 70 who haven't been heard from.

"Firemen will personally contact these people within the next two weeks," Mr. Reeder declared, "in order to make them realize that this whole idea is for their own protection and safety. We want everyone in the community to have the opportunity to do their part in providing this protection."

Girls' Club Gives Concert

An evening concert featuring the Ninth grade girls' glee club will be presented at the Upland junior high school auditorium next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Two Tons of Clothing Given

More than two tons of clothing have been given by Uplanders to the Victory Clothing Collection, Lowell Donnell, chairman of the local drive, announced today.

Because of this generous response locally, the clothing drive will not be extended as has been done in many other parts of the country, Mr. Donnell said. The Victory Collection ended yesterday.

"The whole community is to be thanked and commended on its exceedingly generous response," Mr. Donnell declared. "And all who helped are to be congratulated on their wholehearted assistance."

Those who helped Mr. Donnell in packing the multitude of clothes which were given by local citizens were: Ernest Olson, Howard Paulin, Clint Thompson, Clyde DuVall, Vernon Paine, Howard Mason, Leigh Thompson, Frank Meaker, I. T. McFadden, Glenn Atwood, L. A. Fox and Dr. E. L. Wenger.

Kirk Vernon Named Jury Foreman

A retired Upland business man and rancher, Kirk Vernon, has been appointed as foreman of San Bernardino's 1946 grand jury.

Other Uplanders who will serve on the jury are Mrs. Harriet Gray and E. Tweed Stone. Edred W. Drew, A. R. Gemmel and J. Awdry Armstrong of Ontario, are also on the 1946 jury.

Good-bye Lumber

Why isn't there lumber here for the building of more houses?

Ask the OPA.

Lumber mills can get more money by shipping it out of the nation than they can by selling it to dealers for consumption at home.

The Southern California Retail Lumber Dealers association is authority for the statement that the OPA price ceiling favors exportation of the country's lumber. Mills that formerly filled California lumber yards are now far behind on orders for foreign higher-priced markets.

It matters not, apparently, that in Upland and in every other west coast community, veterans are desperate for houses; that business expansion is thwarted, that employment in the construction trades is suffering and that the nation's natural resources are being depleted.

OPA regulations establish the ceiling price on lumber, butter, and most other materials used in every-day living. Through an unequitable price ceiling producers turn their attention to those items that are most profitable.

Of course, it isn't the patriotic thing for lumber mills to send U. S. lumber abroad when it is needed so desperately here. But lumber workers cannot live on patriotism—and some patriotic official in the OPA could very easily change the situation by correcting the price ceilings.

Another War Right Now?—

If there is going to be another world war, why doesn't the United States start it right now and conquer the world?

That is today's idea from one radio commentator. Instead of waiting until Russia, Spain or some other country develops the atomic bomb and prepares to wage war, this nation should strike when the striking is the easiest—then be sure that is the last war.

It will be only a matter of time until the atomic bomb can be made in any big nation.

We are not advocating war, but the thought presents the very definite challenge facing the Allies. The atomic bomb is not ours for long. It belongs to the world . . . . and it must be used to keep the peace, or it will be used to blast out civilization.

Guest Editorial

BY FREDERIC W. DUNDAS

The current Senate filibuster on the Fair Employment Practices Act is reminding us again of the increasingly serious problem of racial minorities which confronts us in the postwar period. The wartime demand for labor has given many heretofore underprivileged groups a taste of economic equality and has, I think, made them unwilling to continue in the wartime status quo.

Although many other sections of the country may have more acute problems in this respect than we have here in our community, let us not delude ourselves into thinking that our prolem is not a serious one. We have segregated our Mexican-American neighbors in separate schools and even churches and denied them the use of our barber shops and restaurants. During periods of plentiful labor supply we have discriminated against them in regard to both quantity and quality of jobs. Then, when the war created a severe labor scarcity, we recruited thousands of their native countrymen to help us, and they have done—and are still doing—a magnificent job. We recruited and drafted many of their young men to serve in our armed forces and several from this community gave their lives in the conflict.

If we ask these people to resume the position they occupied before the war I think we must expect a return of the pachucos, and unrest and even violence or one kind or another.

When we ask ourselves what factors will begin to effect a solution of some of these problems, it seems reasonable to assume that the greatest single factor and by far the most important will be education. Proper education begets an interest in good citizenship and a desire for more gracious living, teaches sanitation and healthful habits.

If education is so important, I think that our community is showing serious discrimination against these people. The Sierra Vista elementary school, to which they are obliged to send their children, is in few respects equal to the other schools of the community. It is dingy and dark and unattractive; the grounds are not landscaped. The teaching staff is undoubtedly the equal of those of the other schools, but the building must be an unpleasant place to work as compared with the other schools.

Although construction of new facilities is out of the question for some time to come, it is not too soon for the people of Upland to be considering how to improve this unfair situation and to be declaring themselves in favor of equitable treatment of all groups in the community.

Mac's Pasture

By MAC McQUILLEN

To our door came a quaint little man, whose serene face carried heart appeal He gently asked for a job that he might earn his breakfast.

In those depressed early thirties that was the formula that brought out the ham, eggs, fried potatoes and coffee at the MAC-SHACK.

Paul was an expert gardener. He knew every plant, its botany, its life pattern. His green fingers sanctified the soil. Paul was a graduate of a great European university. Yet he had always been bashful and self effacing.

Standing with unbending knees he was working the ground around a planting. Feeling sorry for the old chap I offered to fetch something on which he could kneel. He pointed to his short legs and long back and said: "—God made each of us so that we can most efficiently do the work we are intended to do."

Up and down the coast he gardened for many years, mostly for large estates. For years he was employed by the parents of William Randolph Hearst when that lad was a problem to them. Paul was born without an acquisitive sense. Those less fortunate were usually the recipients of his modest surpluses. The great depression found him making his own way and eager to earn his food or pay.

On occasional evenings he told me many interesting things concerning his experiences.

Once he told me of a wealthy man he had encountered in an adjacent county, whom he had asked for a chance. I now quote Paul—"Because I had nothing that he wanted, money, power, or influence,—He laid his soul bare before me."

Several years have passed since Paul perhaps shyly opened the gate of the great green garden, but ever since I have tried my very, very best to be as kind and considerate as my limited talents will allow—especially to those from whom one might not expect some material return.

—— Except, perhaps, an outside chance to visit Paul in The Garden.

Cheerfully yours,
Mac.

THE CITRUS INDUSTRY

Although the Huntington library has a large amount of information about this important industry, Uplanders have been able to make some valuable additions to it. A list follows:

Early reports of the O. K. fruit exchange of North Ontario, dated 1900, 1901 and 1902. Donated by the O. K. fruit exchange and the Upland chamber of commerce. North Ontario became Upland in 1902; Upland was incorporated in 1906 under city manager type of government.

1943 Souvenir Booklet — 50th Anniversary of the California fruit growers exchange and the 60th anniversary edition of The Daily Report — donated by Mr. Winter.

Typed copy of manuscript, "Origin and History of Liberty Groves Corporation" by the founder, Tyler R. Woodbridge, with a number of interesting clippings attached; also copy of by-laws. Donated by Mrs. Woodbridge.

A very significant contribution will be made by Mrs Lily Hawkinson of Upland, in due time. The "Golden Apples of Hesperides", a 300 year old treatise on the culture of citrus fruit (golden apples) is being translated by her from the old Latin script. It is expected that photostats of both the original and the translation will be made by the Huntington library and added to their archives. As Mrs. Hawkinson is the only one ever to translate these volumes, the acquisition will be a notable one.

The Huntington library is one of the few built expressly for preserving historical documents and manuscripts; the rooms devoted to these, as well as the one for rare books (of which they have one of the largest collections) are kept automatically at a certain temperature and moisture content; and expert care is given all other material.

Around Town

BY THE TOWNSMAN

"We're quite happy with our new lighting," Earl Dunning, the head man of the Masons, said yesterday. He was speaking of the fluorescent lighting which has been installed in all the rooms of the Lodge, including the reception room.

A local family received a neatly addressed envelope from an Upland church the other day. The lady of the house tore open the envelope to see the contents. But there was nothing to be found. The envelope was completely empty!

Several young boys were considerably engrossed at a local drug store last Tuesday. They were seated on the floor avidly devouring the contents of comic books. The only difference between them and some adults is that the latter can afford to buy them.

A one-act comedy, "Elmer and the Love Bug," will be presented to the Rotary club on February 27 by the dramatic club of the Upland Junior High school. It was presented recently in the elementary school auditorium and is under the direction of Ernest Camfield, vice-principal.

A look into the new, revised plans for the Veterans' Memorial last night leaves no doubt that it will probably be one of the most beautiful buildings in Southern California. It will really be something that every veteran will be proud to share with his buddies.

Now, it's oleomargarine that's going to be given away. It seems as if the Upland Theater has some on hand and if you're lucky enough to be selected you'll have some of it for your meal either Wednesday or Thursday.

Free facials were given at a local business place yesterday and today. It was all a part of a demonstration stunt but lots of women got a little beauty treatment all for free.

This is all strictly grapevine stuff, but we've been told that a bill is now pending in Washington to give some retroactive pay to former enlisted men now discharged. Since officers have been the only ones receiving terminal leave and getting paid for it, somebody got the idea that the enlisted men ought to have similar treatment. Sounds like a good idea from here.

Coronel Takes Part in Panel Talks

Paul Coronel, a leader in the Mexican-American Movement here, participated in a panel discussion at the Tulare Teachers' club last Monday with Dr. W. Henry Cooke, professor of history at Claremont college.

Invited to Tulare because of his article, "The Fundamental Principles of an Inter-Cultural Program" which he wrote last summer at Claremont, Mr. Coronel, a Spanish instructor at Chaffey, and Dr. Cooke discussed the various aspects of inter-cultural understanding.

"American culture is in the process of evolution," Mr. Coronel declared at the meeting," and it is in the schools that prejudices against various groups can be broken for that is where America is molded."

It was agreed by both speakers that the elementary school was the best place to begin this education against prejudice. It was suggested that the teaching of Spanish might be started there in order to help foster understanding in later life.

By understanding the Mexican-American groups not only would interests at home be served, Mr. Coronel said, but would in the future bring about an understanding of all of Latin-America where our business and future lies.

Since American culture is made up of many segments, racially and linguistically, it is necessary for all people to understand it in order to understand the "cultural evolution" that lies ahead.

On the way to Tulare, Mr. Coronel and Dr. Cooke stopped at Bakersfield where Mr. Coronel explained the work of the Mexican-American Movement.

300 Toastmasters Attend Dinner

"Building International Goodwill Through Better Speech" was the theme as 300 members of the Toastmasters' club in Southern California met for their founder's district annual ladies' night meeting at the Chaffey cafeteria.

Ralph Arnold, Ontario councilman, welcomed the group to the city in behalf of Mayor Taylor M. Peterson who could not attend.

All of the speakers at the dinner emphasized the same theme—that great things can be done through education, and truthful speech and that these constitute the greatest challenge to every man and woman.

Kaiser Plans Huge Merger

A $1,000,000,000 steel merger is being contemplated by Henry J. Kaiser.

This was confirmed last Saturday in New York when Mr. Kaiser acknowledged that joint operation of the Fontana steel mill, Republic Steel company, the Geneva steel plant in Utah, Colorado Fuel and Iron company and the Wickwire Spencer Steel company has been under consideration.

Charles M. White, president of Republic Steel, however, said to the United Press in Cleveland that rumor of a merger of Republic and the Kaiser interests 'is completely and absolutely silly."

Kaiser's statement indicated, nevertheelss, that a merger of the size that has been rumored would be completed in a series of steps. He outlined the following:

"In setting up such a combination for public financing," he said, "first, Fontana must be made sound, second, Geneva must be made sound and third sound arrangements must be made with C. F. and I."

If this merger plan goes through it would bring about an enterprise closely rivaling the $1,032,715,000 Bethlehem Steel corporation as the country's second largest steel producer.

Negroes Attempt to Rob Youth in Upland

L. R. Bradley, 1501 North Mountain avenue, is a patient at San Antonio Community hospital, entering Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Campbell and son, Bobby, are leaving Upland about February 10 for New York City, where Mr. Campbell will report to the home office of the Independent News company to assume his new duties as territorial supervisor. Mr. Campbell was discharged from the Navy Seabees on December 23 after 20 months overseas service at Guam and Peleliu Islands. Before entering service, he was a member of the Upland police force. The Campbells are at present residing with Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Linkey, 458 North First avenue.

A great many people want someone else to be brave in their behalf.

As the home goes, so goes the nation; and if it goes, we're gone.

SOFT WATER FOR THE

BATH—
Creamy, lasting suds that make you feel really clean, yet rinse off in a jiffy, are yours with softened water in your bath. Since soft water forms no soap "curds" there is no bath tub ring to discolor the tub.

SHAMPOO—
A soft water shampoo with heaps of silky suds will bring thrilling new beauty to your hair. Soap rinses out completely—no dull film left, just a gorgeous gleam. Dad will love his soft water shaves, too—and his razor blades will last for twice as many shaves.

DISHES—
Scads of foamy suds whisk grease away like magic. Dishes, glass, silver all sparkle and gleam like new. No need to dry them with a towel—softened water leaves no soap scum to smear, or lime to spot.

CLOTHES—
All clothes and linens wash much cleaner in soft water. No disagreeable soap curds, formed by hard water, that won't rinse out and leave washables gray and dingy looking. Clothes last longer because these is less rubbing the soft water way.

COOKING—
The calcium and magnesium salts in hard water make vegetables tough and dull looking. Soft water cooking retains garden freshness. Soft water coffee and tea taste better and use about one-third less grounds. Softened water is better for drinking, too.

Sport . . . . . Slants

By STEVE KALAGIAN

It isn't the custom of this column to deal with anything else but sports. But today, we want to deviate from this course to make an appeal for a returned war veteran who deserves all that we can give him and more.

He is Raymond Davis, a local boy, who has the rather unfortunate distinction of being the only completely disabled veteran from this city. Both of his legs have been completely paralyzed as a result of a serious injury to his spine by a shell.

A group of Uplanders, mindful of the great sacrifice that Ray has made for his country and for this community, have started a Raymond Davis Building Fund toward the building of a home for him and his family which includes three children. While Ray is entitled to government compensation for his disability, it is hardly enough to maintain a family that size.

Everyone in this community is being called upon to contribute to this Fund. Only by the overwhelming cooperation of everyone, no matter how small, can this humanitarian project be successful.

While the success of this campaign will be measured in terms of the dollars and cents that Upland will give this boy, the moral obligation is just as important. Here is an opportunity for the city to show its appreciation for what every serviceman has done by devoting themselves completely to the cause of Raymond Davis. It will show all veterans, and especially Ray, that the people for whom they did their fighting have not forgotten and are humbly grateful and genuinely sympathetic for all that Davis and millions like him have endured.

Both the Upland First National Bank and the Bank of America are ready to accept whatever you can spare. This is not just another drive on which a deadline has been set; it's a small token of our appreciation that we can extend to Ray who is bravely accepting what the future holds in store for him.

He needs all the help, understanding and encouragement we can give him. Surely, that is not too much to ask from us? Can we do anything else and still live with our conscience in the years to come?

Raymond Davis, his wife and three children need a home and need it now. There is not time for anything else. There is no time for rest—not until the Davis family have moved into their new home built upon the foundation of a grateful community and constructed on the understanding and appreciation of what he and others like him have done for us and for all the rest of mankind.

Panthers Tangle With San Bernardino Here

Chaffey Will Try For Upset Again

Inspired by their first victory of the season last week, Chaffey Junior college will be ready for San Bernardino Junior college tonight at the Chaffey gym.

With the odds against them, the Panthermen will take the floor hoping for another upset. The San Bernardino Jaycees now hold undisputed position of third place in the Orange Empire conference and a victory for Chaffey would tie up the two teams with two wins and two losses each.

The Panther victory over Santa Ana last Friday night improve their chances against San Bernardino tonight. Coach Mitchell's hoopsters have continued to show improvement with each game and if they continue this pace an upset tonight is possible.

San Bernardino swamped Santa Ana in their first meeting while the Panthers defeated the Dons, 56-50. But game statistics indicate that the game could go either way, depending upon the breaks.

In the three conference games played so far San Bernardino has scored 67 points compared to 75 for their opponents. Chaffey has hung up 131 points while their opponents were piling up 135.

The game will start at 8 p. m.

Starting lineups tonight will probably be:

Weeks and Mayhew, forwards; Zmolek, center, and Perry and Shamblin, guards.

Tigers Favored as They Meet Redlands

The Tigers left for Redlands today for their first engagement against the Terriers this season.

For the first time since league play began, Chaffey High school will be favored to win. Redlands has been unable to score a victory so far and has lost three straight games.

Coach Kaiser is hopeful that this may be one game that his team can hope to win without too much difficulty.

The Tiger basketball squad had dinner at Chaffey High school and left by bus for the Redlands game.

Those awarded passes include basketballer Bob Arnold; gridders Hoxsie Griswold, Bob Hansen, Jack Porter, Bob Russell, Russ Tausheck and Bob Wheeler; crew man Ed Cleland; and soccer letterman Murray Johnston.

Hold Calcutta Dinner Sunday

The opening gun for the President's Trophy will be fired Sunday at the Red Hill Country club when a Calcutta dinner is held at 7 p. m.

All those attending the dinner will be at liberty to start their bidding on the 32 players who have qualified for the tournament by their scores. Although most of those present Sunday night will be club members there will be some guests who will also be allowed to participate in the auction.

Tournament play begins the following day, Monday, and continues for four weeks. After the first week half of the 32 participants will be eliminated, leaving 16 for the tournament in the second week. Eight will be left the third week, with the finals to be played the fourth week.

Norman Springer, tournament chairman, was the winner of the President's Trophy last year.

More Than 600 Attend Jubilee

More than 600 young people attended the first Saturday Nite Jubilee of 1946 in the Merton E. Hill auditorium at Chaffey last Saturday.

Among the features of the program was a testimonial by Lieut. Stan Hillis, of Monrovia, who told of what comfort and courage he was able to bring to service men overseas by conducting religious meetings.

The Jubilee is sponsored locally by the Western San Bernardino county Youth for Christ committee. The next rally is scheduled for February 25 and will feature Captain C. O. Miller, army chaplain.

Redlands University To Play Whittier

With plenty of spirited play promised, the University of Redlands Bulldogs are planning a warm reception for the Whittier College Poets when the cagers tangle again on the Bulldog court tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Last week the Poets handed the University of Redlands its first defeat in eleven starts for the season. It was the first defeat for the Bulldogs in Southern California conference play after five starts.

Redlands still leads the conference, and can take the title by nabbing the three remaining games on the schedule.

EVERY RESIDENT IS ELIGIBLE

Every family in Upland, Alta Loma, Cucamonga, and Etiwanda is included in the Upland Merchants' Dividend Day. A directory has been especially compiled by The Upland News. This directory includes every house address in these communities—Upland, the outlying district, and the three communities east of Upland.

A page number and line number are selected in a drawing to determine where the "Dividend Day Man" will call with the award. Thus, an address is selected from the directory. If the family receiving the call qualifies by having sales slips, the award is presented. The call is made at 6 p. m. every Monday. The sales slips must be dated Saturday.

The dividend sales do not have to be for cash, a "charged" sales slip being acceptable. In all fairness, however, a sales slip for payment on account cannot be eligible for use on dividend day.

Plans for Beautiful Veteran's War Memorial Are Completed

by Legionnaires that now is the time to provice a building for the veterans who are returning daily.

"While this whole project is under the sponsorship of the American Legion, it must be remembered that this will be a Veterans' Memorial for all veterans whether they are members of the Legion or not," one committee member said. "We have merely taken the leadership in promoting the idea since we are the only service organization in the community."

A program to make the public aware of the necessity of having a Veterans' Memorial now is already under consideration by the Legion and will be released just as soon as the majority of the membership give the go signs on the plans as presented by Mr. Kazebier last night.

Last Rites Today For John Hook, Citrus Rancher

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Stone Funeral home for John Hook, citrus rancher and resident of Upland for 27 years, who passed away suddenly early at his home on North Central avenue Wednesday morning after an apparent heart attack. He was 75 years of age.

A native of Wapello county, Iowa, Mr. Hook had lived in California 30 years, 27 years of that time in Upland. Previously, he had resided in Pomona and Santa Ana. He was a member of the Claremont Masonic lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Jane Hook; one daughter, Mrs. M. A. Crosslin of San Francisco; a son, Max Hook of Upland; a sister, Mrs. A. G. Passig of Claremont; two brothers, James W. Hook of New Haven, Connecticut, and Morris G. Hook of Hubbard Lake, Michigan; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Dr. Samuel Hughes, pastor of the Upland Methodist church, had charge of the funeral service and the Claremont lodge conducted the committal rites at Bellevue cemetery.

Pensions, Claims Handled Here

Claims for pensions or other veterans' matters will be handled at the Upland-Ontario Veterans' Assistance office, 259 East Ninth street, every Thursday afternoon.

Leo J. Murphy, assistant to the San Bernardino county service officer, John Pennington, has made arrangements to come here every Thursday to take care of these problems.

Veterans who think that they may have any claims on the government or families of veterans who wish to make application for pensions or other claims may do so with Mr. Murphy any Thursday afternoon.

He can be reached at other times at 237 South Euclid avenue, in Ontario.

The Veterans' Assistance office is located in the Selective Service office, 259 East Ninth stret.

Fine Mother for Letting Son Drive

Mrs. Elsa James, 855 East 105th street, Los Angeles, was fined $50 by Judge Fred H. Jacobs Tuesday in the Upland justice court for permitting her 13-year-old son to drive her car without a license. Half of the fine was suspended, however, upon condition that the boy would not drive the car again and that the car would be put in proper mechanical condition.

Noted Speaker

Dorothy Thompson, noted columnist and radio commentator, will be heard at Bridges auditorium in Claremont next Wednesday night, February 6. Her subject will be "These Crucial Days."

Service Club Idea Praised

In Upland and in most communities of America the "service club idea" is building friendships, is providing a medium for men to "help others," and this plan should work on a larger scale, Dr. Rufus Oakey said in speaking at the meeting of the Upland Lions club at noon yesterday.

Dr. Oakey, who is the new pastor of the Upland Presbyterian church, said the service clubs have accomplished improvements in business methods and in uniting communities in worthwhile projects, but expressed the belief the service club idea should work on a larger scale.

"It's the small acts that are important, he said, and reported on the results of a nationwide survey to determine what employers wanted of their employes. Friendliness, tactfulness and a spirit of cooporation were cited as important factors along with versality in performing duties, the speaker said.

Dr. Oakey recounted the experience of two sailors who, after months of fighting, arrived in New York from overseas and collected their back pay. Each was given a $500 bill. They were unable to use the money, however, because no one would cash it. The money was too big and cafes and stores looked upon it as "phony." They resorted to the police for assistance in obtaining food until they could cash the big currency at a bank.

"What they needed was small change, because their $500 was too big," observed the fluent speaker. "What we need is small ideas, small projects, something we can get our 'teeth into'."

The speaker was introduced by Ernest Gibson, program chairman. Prior to his address, Dr. Earl L. Wenger, who recently returned to least 10,000 hours to the Red Cross program during the wartime years. This totals more than double the amount of time contributed by any other local resident. Mrs. Eckerman was praised for her 15 years as chairman of the local chapter and for her 4000 hours of volunteer Red Cross work during the war. Mrs. Adams is another "4000-hour" hour woman and she also served as chairman for two years.

Mrs. Wass, the retiring chairman, presided at the meeting and expressed her appreciation for the splendid cooperation given by her committee chairmen and faithful workers. Dinner was served by the Upland Woman's club. Attractive table decorations were arranged by a committee including Mrs. Philip White, Mrs. Dudley Phillips and Mrs. Pearl Roach.

COMMITTEES NAMED

Mrs. Wichstrom announced her committee chairmen as follows:

Mrs. William Kistinger, home service; Mrs. E. Pearl Roach, production; Mrs. Warren Wass, disastrous preparedness; Ernest Camfield, water safety; Ernest Tweed Stone, first aid; Harold Cook, accident prevention; Mrs. Dudley Phillips, public information; Owen Atwood, fund campaign; Mrs. Philip White, arts and skills; Mrs. Gertrude Hall, nutrition; Mrs. Arthur Pehl, camp and hospital; Mrs. Walter Combs, Gray ladies; Mrs. Nellis McNeil and Mrs. A. B. Van Fleet, junior Red Cross; Mrs. Glen Shepherd, Etiwanda; Mrs. Merl Kough, College Heights; Mrs. William Hutton, Cucamonga; Mrs. A. C. Beattie, Alta Loma; Mrs. Roy Wiseley, Camp Baldy, and Mrs. W. F. Tyler, production desk.

As part of the detailed reports, there was presented a list of the women who had worked in Red Cross projects during the four-year war period. Mrs. Flowers headed the list with a total of 10,000 hours. Mrs. Eckerman and Mrs. William Mason were listed as having each worked 4000 hours.

Sheldon Swan Home After Three Years As Navy Musician

Sheldon Swan, home after more than three years in the service, was recently discharged from the navy. A member of a navy orchestra, the Uplander served as musician, first class for two years in the South Pacific. On returning to the states, he went to a navy musicians' school in Washington, D. C.

Service Basic Principle At Beulah College, Dr. Brubaker Says

Calling it a Christian college with service as its dominant philosophy, Dr. Henry G. Brubaker, faculty member of Beulah college, told Rotarians Wednesday the basic philosophy and principles of Beulah college.

"It is service on a world basis but not at the neglect of the home community," he said. "But many of our alumni do world service in foreign countries in the fields of education, relief and missionary work."

Striking at the increasing "disregard for the laws of our country," Dr. Brubaker said that in the philosophy practiced at Beulah college education was not complete without the teaching of Christian principles.

"And this generation is in growing need to be infused with these principles," he said.

Visualizing a religious center in Upland based on the principles and ideals of Beulah college, Dr. Brubaker said that in the 18 years he has been on the faculty the enrollment has increased 300 per cent.

"It's something that has just begun to take and will continue to grow," he declared, elaborating on the expansion program now underway at Beulah college.

A new boys' dormintory, a new auditerium and a home arts building are some of the things that will be added to the college, Dr. Brubaker said.

Dr. Samuel Hughes as program chairman of the day presented Dr. Brubaker. Eugene L. Mueller, president, made a report on his meeting with other Rotary presidents of Southern California in Los Angeles, where the International president spoke. Bill Dingle, Junior Rotarian, was presented and spoke briefly on the prospects of the Chaffey High school quintet. Stephen C. Kalagian, magazine chairman, reported on the contents of the February issue of The Rotarian.

Youth Dance Delayed Until February 15

After being postponed several times, the Upland-Ontario Community Youth center has tentatively scheduled its opening dance for February 15 at the Chaffey gymnasium.

The dance was supposed to be held last Friday but it was discovered that the gym had been promised to another organization. February 15 is the first date when the gym will be available and the San Bernardino orchestra will be able to keep its engagement.

Civilization will either go all out for good, or go out for good and all.

Scouts Plan to Attend Church

Plans were made at the meeting of the Cucamonga Scout Troop No. 1 Monday to attend church on Scout Sunday, February 10.

Wallace Stoebe, retiring scoutmaster, presented Walter Edwards, newly-elected scoutmaster, to 18 boys who were present.

It is not a question of the "haves" and 'have nots," but of what we do with what we have.
